

North Coast Calvary Chapel Premarital Course About a Marriage

Our purpose is to encourage, serve, and equip marriages and families for growing, loving, Christ-centered relationships.

The Marriage & Family Ministry welcomes you as you pursue God's best for your marriage and families here at North Coast Calvary Chapel. It is important for you to know that our NCCC family includes single adults, single parents, and blended families. The premarital track has been created to help you find the encouragement and instruction that you need. We want to encourage you to join us as we learn together, grow together, and play together in Christ.

Please feel free to call us with any questions or visit our website at http://www.northcoastcalvary.org/ministries/family_events_02.html

Class Title

Marital Roles & Expectations

Instructors

Gus and Kelly Morrison

Email: gusso@sbcglobal.net

Telephone: (858) 945-6246

Instructor Background

Gus and Kelly have been involved with the Premarital Program at North Coast Calvary Chapel for the past 14 years. Their heart-felt involvement in the program includes both teaching and mentoring couples. Their passion is for couples to have fulfilling marriages and to “divorce proof” the church.

Class Summary

This class introduces couples to the development of marital expectations and roles in marriage. This interactive class includes break-out sessions for the purpose of developing healthy models of the “perfect” husband and wife. Biological, social, and emotional differences between men and women are also highlighted in this class.
